

NEW YORK YIMBY

September 15, 2015

<http://newyorkyimby.com/2015/09/six-story-three-unit-residential-conversion-at-41-great-jones-street-approved-noho.html>

77,273 Unique Monthly Visitors

Six-Story, Three-Unit Residential Conversion At 41 Great Jones Street Approved, NoHo

41 Great Jones Street, renderings via REW

Earlier this year, the LPC approved the conversion of a five-story commercial structure into a six-story, three-unit residential building at 41 Great Jones Street, in NoHo. Now Community Board 2 has approved the building for residential use, according

to Real Estate Weekly. The units will be condominiums — two duplexes and a triplex — spanning a total of 13,333 square feet. The exterior will also be restored, and construction is slated to begin this November. Blumenfeld Development Group is developing, while Morris Adjmi Architects is designing.